

The Project

In partnership with the Refugee Council, the Refugee Week team asked a number of guest editors to contribute to an online blog in the lead up to Refugee Week 2007 and to talk about their encounters of, experiences of, and thoughts on refugees and asylum.

Between the 11th and 20th June, five authors posted opinion pieces about their encounters of, experiences of, and thoughts on refugees and asylum.

The blog received over 500 unique visits and the authors pieces received many interesting comments from a diverse audience.
