

Welcome to Refugee Week Scotland

Refugee Week 2012 is going to be from the 18th to the 24th of June

There is lots of things happening for Refugee Week Scotland and you can find the latest details at www.refugeeweekscotland.com or on our new Refugee Week Scotland Facebook page.

This year Refugee Week Scotland is inspired by the idea of courage, the bravery we all draw on to make those big and small decisions that ultimately shape our lives.

This year also marks the 60th Anniversary of the UN Refugee Convention, which continues to be important in ensuring that people in danger of persecution in their own countries are granted protection in other nations.

We invite you to join us during Refugee Week to celebrate the contributions refugees have made to Scotland over the past 60 years. A number of exciting projects and events will happen throughout the week - there's something for everyone.

Our Refugee Week Scotland blog is now up and running for this year with interviews and stories of inspiration from those involved. We'd love to hear more from YOU about your Refugee Week. To contribute to the blog, just email your post and any photos you'd like to share to:
