Refugee Week Update Dec 2011

As 2011 draws to a close we hope you all have had a prosperous and enjoyable year. We would like to thank you all for the support and positive spirit that keeps Refugee Week going year-on-year. In this newsletter you will find an invitation to join us at the Refugee Week 2012 Conference and news on the first ever Platforma Festival.

Refugee Week October Update 2011

Welcome to October's Update. In this update you will find information about this year's evaluation, the upcoming Platforma Festival and a new book.

Refugee Week Update July 2011

Hello, in this newsletter you will find information about Refugee Week 2011, the Simple Acts Schools Competition winners, an upcoming Platforma event and a fundraising appeal from one of the key supporters of the Simple Acts campaign.

Refugee Week Update 1 June

It's June! and we are delighted to see that so many events have been organised across the country. As ever, please do continue uploading your events on the Events Calendar and encourage others to do the same. Here are a few notes and updates from our end...

Refugee Week Update May 19

Here is a quick update on some developments and things happening for Refugee Week 2011, including some great events, promotional materials and the amazing new Bigfoot's 'Think Simple, Act Big' programme.

Refugee Week Update 4 May

Hoping that the excitement is growing stronger each day for you as it is for us! It is that time of the year that the newsletters will be more frequent as we try to make sure you are in the loop of all the latest developments in the run up to the big week!

Refugee Week Update- April 2011

It's sunny times here as we have received the new promotional materials for Refugee Week 2011! Just a few more weeks to go now for this year's events and we will make sure you are all regularly updated about upcoming events and developments. For now, here are a few updates.....

60 years of contribution

Dear all,

our celebrations for Refugee Week 2011 will be based around the theme '60 years of contribution'. To provide a more unified approach for our diverse activities we have developed core media messages that you might find useful.

Refugee Week Update - March 2011

Spring is in the air and in spite of it all we are positive about 2011! Encouraged by the fantastic atmosphere at our conference in January, we feel it's time to look forward again. There is some good news already: Platforma has now been launched, our funding for Celebrating Sanctuary London 2011 was confirmed and our new marketing material should be ready for you by the end of March.

Refugee Week Update - November 2010

Ok, after dealing with a few challenges recently (and we can tell you that there have been a few of those), it seems that things are finally beginning to come together and fall into place. This newsletter includes information about the next Refugee Week Conference, which will be exploring ways in which we can mark 60th anniversary of the Refugee Convention next year, an update on Platforma (arts and refugees project), some events we like this month and, crucially, some trivia. Hope you enjoy it!

Refugee Week Update - October 2010

Welcome to October's Update. It's been a while, we know. We've had a busy summer of evaluating and planning, and there's been some staff changes and reduced working hours too. But here we are with a summary of the main highlights from Refugee Week 2010, plus a video about the winners of our Simple Acts school competition, and much more...

Refugee Week Update - July 2010

Welcome to July's Update. Here you'll find our call out for feedback, a great new singing project for kids as well as details of World City music festival...

Refugee Week Update - June 2010

Welcome to the Update for June. It's only two weeks until Refugee Week and there's loads of stuff happening so make sure you visit our Events Calendar to find some cool events.

Refugee Week Update - May 2010

Welcome to the Refugee Week Update for May. This issue we're ignoring the confusion surrounding the UK elections and are talking about T-shirts instead! We've got lots of lovely new T-shirts for you to show your support, as well as a bunch of free posters and flyers. We also include a great new Simple Acts of the Month and an offer for half price school resource packs...

Refugee Week Update - April 2010

Welcome to the Refugee Week Update for April. This month we've got a few questions for you to answer in the Simple Acts of the Month, and a reminder to get involved with our Schools Competition! Also included are details of a great conference coming up and a new report by the Paul Hamlyn Foundation...

Refugee Week Update - March 2010
Welcome to our Refugee Week Update for March. Here you'll find details about our exciting 'Schools Competition', a sneaky Simple Act of the Month, a new initiative for young refugees as well as details of a great event organised by English PEN...

Refugee Week Update - February 2010
Welcome to the Refugee Week Update for February. Apart from our Simple Act of the Month (an easy one), this issue is all about the 'F' word – funding opportunities! Oh, and a call out for papers too...

Refugee Week Update - January 2010
Happy New Year from the Refugee Week UK team. Sorry January's Update is a little belated – we're busy gearing up for the conference. We've also had some great news about a new four year project we'll be running (more inside). This newsletter also has a new Simple Act of the Mois, events from Rich Mix and free creative writing workshops from English PEN...
